LEAP YEAR FETE HERE SATURDAY

BUFFALOES WIN CHAMP TITLE IN BASKETBALL

Daniel Baker Hill Billies Cancel Games Here for This Week.

Tallest Team in America Has Clean Slate for Season, Except T. C. U.—May Go to K. C.

The 1932 season of the Buffalo basketball squad came to an end Tuesday afternoon when Daniel Baker Hill Billies forfeited the games scheduled for Friday and Saturday nights. The Hill Billies had previously cancelled two games with Tech scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday night.

The Buffaloes were clear winners of the conference before the action taken in cancelling the games, as they would have still been on top of the conference even had Daniel Baker won both games this week—and the Buffs are not in the habit of letting any team win two games in a row on the home floor.

Cancellation of these games automatically closed the Buff's season on the varnished court so far as home fans are concerned.

However, there is a movement on foot here to send the team to the national tournament in Kansas City next month.

The Buffs, known nationally as the "tallest team in America," won six and lost no games in conference competition. For the third straight year they won the championship, and the sixth in 10 years competition in the T. I. A. A.

Abilene Christian College of Abilene finished next to the Buffs in the conference with seven wins and three losses. Daniel Baker beat the A. C. C. one game, while the Buffs took the other two.

In winning the title the elongated Buffaloes trampled on McMurry, A. C. C. and Sul Ross. Only in one game was the score close enough to become excited about, the McMurry Indians having almost won never-dying glory in a 43 to 41 contest in Abilene.

Besides the conference foes, the Buffs met and conquered Southwestern Bulldogs of Weatherford, Okla.; Simmons U., Texas Tech and North Texas Teachers. The only blot of the season's record is a 37 to 31 victory the T. C. U. Horned Frogs won on January 30.

The final conference standing is as follows:

	W.	L.	Pct.	Pts.	Opp.
Canyon	8	0	1.000	273	181
A. C. C.	7	3	.700	344	302
A. & I.	5	3	.625	270	227
Daniel Baker	4	4	.500	213	253
McMurry	3	7	.300	302	353
Sul Ross	1	9	.100	266	370

Mr. Morrison is bringing with him several motion picture reels which will be used in illustrating his talk. The meeting is scheduled for 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The meeting place will be announced later.

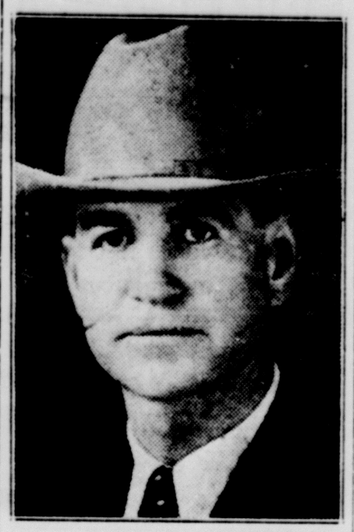
Ben Loudder Enters Race For County Sheriff



BEN LOUDDER

Ben Loudder, another Randall county citizen this week tossed his hat into the race for Sheriff and Tax Collector, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in July.

Mr. Loudder has been a resident stock farmer of the county for the past five years, having lived on the Plains between 8 and 9 years, and is a native Texan. He has had considerable experience as a law enforcing officer. He served as assistant Tax Collector and City Policeman in the city of Cisco, Texas for a period of two years.

Regarding his announcement as candidate for Sheriff and Tax Collector, Mr. Loudder said: "I feel that I am fully qualified to fill the office for Randall county citizens; otherwise I would not offer myself as a candidate. I believe that I am fairly well familiar with conditions here and am capable of handling the situation in an efficient manner.

"Should I be fortunate enough to be elected to this office to serve my fellow citizens, I shall attempt to fulfill the duties of a sheriff and tax collector in a fair and impartial manner, devoting all my time to that office.

"I have now entered this race and shall make an active campaign over the entire county, asking your support and vote solely upon my own merits and qualifications. Any assistance and support given me by my friends will be greatly appreciated. I shall endeavor to see all of the voters in the county within the coming months of the campaign.'

Editor W. H. Graham of the Farwell Tribune visited at the News office Friday. He brought over a bunch of the high school basketball players for the tournament.

THE TALLEST BASKETBALL TEAM IN AMERICA

Winners of the T. I. A. A. for the third straight season. All members of the first string team are more than 6 feet tall. Joe Fortenberry of Happy is 6 feet, 7 inches; Edwin Comer of Clovis is 6 feet 5½ inches; George Colvin of Turkey is 6 feet, 4½ inches; and on down the line with every member of the squad six feet or more tall. The Buffaloes have won the T. I. A. A. Championship six years of the ten that Coach "Sad" Sam Burton has been mentor.

W. H. (Bill) Neal Candidate Commissioner, Precinct 2

I am making my announcement to the people and voters as a candidate for Commissioner Precinct No. 2 of Randall County.

I feel like the most of you people know me. I have lived in the County for about eighteen years, spent the most of that time trying to farm. Have had quite a bit of experience in road work.

I feel like that I am in a position to realize the necessity of an economical administration. I am in favor of all county officers and county employees salaries being reduced, for if there ever was a time the tax-payer needed any relief, now is the proper time. If elected I will give my entire time to the duties of the office and to the service of the people to the best of my ability.

I hope to see each and every voter in the precinct in the near future. Your vote in the July primary will be appreciated.

W. H. (Bill) NEAL.

Quitaque Goes Into Finals Against Sandies Saturday Night—Tournament Brings Good Players.

Displaying a brilliantly passing offense and an air-tight defense, Coach Davis Hill's Amarillo Golden Sandies, won the District One Interscholastic League basketball championship in Buffalo Gymnasium here last Saturday night by defeating the Quitaque Panthers 35 to 7.

The one-sided victory came as a surprising end to a three-day tourney which began Thursday. The Quitaque teams had risen from the ranks of the list of unheralded teams to earn her right to play in the final game.

The losers were a bit worn out by their terrific semi-final game with Coach Noble Atkins' Borger Bulldogs which they barely won, 25 to 22.

In their decisive win, the Sandies proved to be the best balanced team in the tournament. In the semi-finals they conquered the hard fighting Happy Jacks, 31 to 24. In the morning quarter finals they disposed of Dalhart, 1931 champions, 30 to 18. The Bulldogs of Borger won the other quarter-final game Saturday morning by defeating the Gruver cagers, 34 to 24.

The tournament started Thursday afternoon when six teams advanced to the second round in the afternoon's play. Amarillo, Canyon, Pampa and Gruver had little

Andy Walsh Is Candidate For Co.-Dist. Clerk

Yielding to the influence of many friends who have solicited him to enter the campaign for County and District Clerk, Andy Walsh has authorized his announcement in this issue of the News. Mr. Walsh states that he greatly appreciates the many friends who have asked him to submit his candidacy to the voters, and if elected, he will do his very best to show his appreciation by rendering efficient service in the office.

Mr. Wlash states that he has been a citizen of Randall county for seven years, during which time he has had an opportunity to become acquainted with the people of the county, study conditions, and feels that he understands the problems of the citizens and the demands that are made upon the county officials. This office is one of the most important in the county, owing to the large volume of records which must be kept accurately and conveniently for the people of the county. The clerk must meet a large per cent of the people of the county during the conduct of his business, and every courtesy should be extended. All of these duties it will be his pleasure to perform cheerfully and promptly if he is selected in the coming primary.

Mr. Walsh served over-seas with the 36th division during the World War, and is now Post Commander of the Palo Duro Post. He has always taken an active part and interest in all affairs of the county. He believes that should he be elected that he has all the qualifications to serve the people of the county efficienty and that they will feel fully satisfied with his work as their County and District Clerk.

Mr. Walsh states that he will greatly appreciate the active support of the people of the county, and their vote in the Democratic primary on July 23. He will try to see every voter before the primary in order to personally solicit their votes.

Certified Seed to Be Sold at Office Of County Agent

State Certified seed for distribution by the Chamber of Commerce to farmers in the county at exact cost was contracted for this week and orders for same will be accepted at any time.

The seed distribution has been handled through the cooperation of the County Agent during the past several years. Pure certified seed has been purchased for the past four years and distributed to the farmers in this territory at a considerable savings and at the same time guaranteeing them the best seed on the market.

The seed this year has been purchased at approximately 40 per cent cheaper than last year. Hegari, Maize and Kaffir seed will be sold at $2.40 cents in hundred pound sacks while the Red Top sorghum seed will be sold at $2.60 per hundred pound sacks.

Orders will be accepted beginning this week by either County Agent W. H. Upchurch or Chamber of Commerce Secretary, Fred E. Wortham. Seed sales are for cash as the seed is handled at exact cost.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Foster of Colorado City spent the week end at the parental G. G. Foster home.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND ALL BUSINESS HOUSES CO-OPERATE IN BARGAIN FESTIVAL SATURDAY

FREE GIFTS ON DISPLAY SATURDAY AFTERNOON AT BUSINESS HOUSES—FREE SHOW IN THE MORNING—PLENTY OF ENTERTAINMENT THROUGHOUT THE DAY—BECAUSE THIS IS LEAP YEAR.

Canyon's big Leap Year Prize Event, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and scheduled for Saturday, February 27, is expected to be the biggest thing of its kind ever held in Canyon. Preparations are being brought to a close and everything will be in readiness for the big time, states Fred E. Wortham, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Prizes from practically every line of business in Canyon will be offered to the lucky car owners who come to Canyon Saturday. Prizes will be awarded by stores of Canyon. An automobile license number will be drawn for every prize to be offered and placed in the stores offering prizes. Any member of the family finding the number of their car on display will be entitled to the prize.

Although the long prize list has not been completed, those who search for their car numbers will know where to look as the firms offering prizes will display the sign, "FREE PRIZE HERE." Both automobile and truck numbers will be placed on display in the stores. The value of prizes to be offered will be in excess of $100. Every car owner in Randall county will have an opportunity of securing one of these prizes.

The first license numbers will be put on display at 1:15 Saturday afternoon and will remain on display until 3:30, at which time a new number will be placed on display if the first numbers have not been claimed.

In order to make a doubly attractive event, merchants are offering special prices on Saturday in addition to the prizes being given away. People of Randall county will have an opportunity to make a savings by taking advantage of the opportunity to shop in Canyon Saturday.

As its contribution to the Leap Year Prize Event, the Strand Theatre is offering a free picture of special interest to the farmers of Randall county. This show is of six reels and will begin showing at 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

The free picture will show how seed disinfection increases the grain profits. This will be of vital interest to this section because of the amount of grain grown here. It is estimated that more than two hundred million bushels of grain is the annual toll levied by diseases upon America's cereal crops. Scenes from the larger potato sections of the country, Idaho, Maine, Minnesota, North Dakota, and Pennsylvania will be shown. Two reels of entertainment showing the annual National Corn Husking Contest of United States in progress will be shown.

This show is entirely free to the farmer people of Randall County.

Valued Suggestions Made Regarding the Chamber Commerce

Responses to the Chamber of Commerce letter sent out several days ago have brought many worth while suggestions to the attention of the directors, the secretary states. All persons in the city who have received such letters are urged to send in their suggestions at once. Anyone wishing a copy of the letter will be supplied with one by calling at the Chamber of commerce office.

Among the suggestions already received are included: more community gatherings; sponsoring a Christmas savings fund, children's play ground; city park; continued work on the Palo Duro Park idea; increased interest in Canyon as a trading center for people of the County; beautification program; a county library; work toward a closer cooperation of all community interests; a continuation of present radio programs; conduct a campaign for a standard milk ordinance; and many other constructive ideas.

Taxpayers over the state are organizing, as they have a right, and should do. The main difficulty is that the movement to a great extent is like that of putting a lock on the barn after the horse has been stolen. A large percent of our high taxes are the result of interest and sinking fund for the various bond issues which were voted in good times to make public improvements. There can be no default in payment of these as the property of the state must stand good for this indebtedness. Of course to have opposed these bond issues when they were voted would have branded one as an old foggy, and back number. Facts are facts, however, and as the matter now stands, we are paying off these bonds at about the rate of two for one in value of money compared to the time when they were voted. Taxpayer organizations will, however, do a lot of good. Leading citizens will scrutinize a little more closely their candidates for office, their record of economy, and take more interest in what is going on in their community, state and nation. In prosperous times the average men does not take the time to consider these things much.

The Roosevelt boom is on the wane, and it will not be at all surprising to see him slip rapidly before the convention in June. Roosevelt has approved the wet program. McAdoo, Baker and Hearst, all in the Garner camp, brings the Texan into the most favorable position as a compromise candidate. McAdoo's endorsement will bring him the support of the drys. Garner's position is well known. He did not support national prohibition, but has since voted for bills to enforce prohibition, and unlike many of the so-called dry politicians, in his personal life he is entirely dry. If America could get rid of the politicans who talk dry and drink wet, prohibition would progress faster.

Renewing allegiance to American ideals as conceived by George Washington should be of great concern during the coming few months while the bi-centennial program is underway. The steadying influence of great men like Washington has been needed many times during the political life of this young republic. Perhaps there have been more trying times than these, but none of the present generation have witnessed them. The inspiration of Washington's sacrificial devotion to his country's needs in time of stress and storm should be of great value in this year 1932 as programs will be given throughout America during the coming weeks.

Legislative reforms come slowly. Congress has finally passed the bill abolishing the so-called "lame duck" session of congress, which, if finally adopted, requires new congressmen to take office in January following the November election, as well as inaugurating the President and Vice President in January instead of in March. The bill is a constitutional amendment, and will be presented to the state legislatures for confirnment. When two-thirds of the state legislatures approve the bill, it becomes effective. There is no doubt of the change being made, as this "lame duck" session is altogether unnecessary, and useless.

The Community Chest and local officials who have been taking care of the needy cases in the city have been able to meet all demands so far, but supplies are running low, and it is believed that the next four or six weeks will see the most urgent demands of the winter. Clothing is the chief concern at the present time. All kinds of clothing is needed and must be had. The people of Canyon have been very generous the past few months, but the present appeal must be met to take care of those who are unfortunate.

A new brand of K. K. K. appears. In Lamb county stacks of feed and barns were burned last week, in which the new organization is said to have figured. The burning crosses near Happy and Canyon last fall is said to have something to do with the resurrection of the Klan. It is rumored that several meetings have been held by organizers in various towns of the Plains, the primary object, it is said, being to organize unemployed into a political machine.

Alfalfa Bill says that he is willing to run for president on the Democratic ticket, and is filing in several states for a place on the ballots in the preferential primaries. In straw votes taken in the Southwest, Bill has shown to be considerably of a favorite. Outside this area he will cut no figure. His recent repudiation by the people of his own state has not in the least hampered his style in seeking publicity.

Senator Pink Parrish of Lubbock made his formal announcement Sunday as a candidate for Congressman-at-large. This makes three from the Plains to enter the race. The South Plains is entitled to a congressman, and would have received one had not the redistricting bill been blocked in the senate by selfish politicians. So far more than twenty candidates have announced for congressman-at-large, with three to be elected.

One thing will keep the public from greatly increasing the public debt—no one wants or will buy the bonds. Several large cities in Texas have attempted to sell bonds and there were no bidders. Canyon received $1.02 for her bonds a few months ago, which indicated the soundness of the past and present administrations. To keep the city's finances in this sound condition should be the aim of future administrations.

Be sure to come to Canyon for the Leap Year Party on Saturday of this week. 1932 gives us an extra day, and the people of Randall county will be feted with bargains in celebrating this extra day of the year. All business houses in Canyon will join in making the day a great success for those who come and take advantage of the bargains offered.

Some one has predicted dollar wheat this year. That is too good to be true, but the Lord only knows how much the Panhandle needs such a price with the most wonderful prospects we have ever had or a real crop. Even 40 cent wheat will yield some money, as this year's crop will be produced the most economically of any raised in recent years.

Canyon has been fortunate so far in the number of cases of flu. Those who have suffered the epidemic have been plenty sick enough for all the rest who have escaped, but the number has not been large as in some other towns. Care should be taken by all citizens for the coming weeks while the disease prevails.

Japan will quit when she gets everything her own way. The surprising thing, however, is the way the Chinese have been able to withstand the attacks of the superior armed and officered Japs. However, please understand, this it not a war, as neither side has declared war, just sort of a game of tag, and China is It.

News in Canyon 25 Years Ago

The Canyon City Band.

Vince Reeves called our reporter's attention Monday to his having received his new horn. He calls it a "Helecon Tuba"; its size corresponds somewhat with its price, $135, and Vince appears to be as proud of it as a boy usually is with his first pants.

The Canyon City Band now numbers twenty-three pieces with a membership as follows: F. P. Wilson, Clifford Reynolds, Grady Gentry, T. V. Reeves, Tom Wilson, George Hutchins, Albert Bratton, Jim Pipkin, Grady Pipkin, Oscar Davis, L. L. Powers, Lon Gentry, Worth Jennings, Will Bucy, Bob Rowan, George Jordan, Grady Oldham, Toy Shotwell, Mac Bell, Dick Estes, Jim Black, Flake Garner and H. T. Myers. The ten last named are, we may say, new members, but they are making fine progress and will soon harmonize in practice with the others and then Canyon City can justly claim, and without fear of successful contradiction, that she has the best band in the entire Texas Panhandle. F. P. Wilson is director and there are no better anywhere.

"Lad and Lassie" Party

Friday evening last at an early hour several "lads and lassies" might have been seen wending their way to the handsome home of Mr. and Mrs. John Howell, Jr., where they, as host and hostess, appropriately attired greeted their guests who were all dressed as children of twelve or fourteen summers.

After much laughter and fun over the different costumes, games such as "Clap in and clap out," "Puss wants a corner," "Marching 'round levee," "Snap," and other children's games were played until the announcement for refreshments called all to the dining room where most excellent punch and cake were served, and no twelve-year-old children ever did more justice to that part of the program than did those "lads and lassies."

After more games and music it was noticed that the hour hand was nearing the midnight hour, so, thnking their host and hostess for "the best time," the following took their departure:

Misses Donald, Ona Long, Dixon Lair, Haney, Ada Hawkins, Jordan, Maud Brandon, Reeves, Leta Bernicher, Amelia Wilson, Bompart: Messrs. Jarman, Bratton, Wilson, Reeves, Hutchins, George Jordan, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Bratton and Mrs. Hunt.

A. H. Thompson went down about Dallas this week. He has recently been in New Mexico visiting Texico, Roswell and other points thereabouts.

Dr. F. M. Wilson, once a resident here but now of Malta Bend, Mo., came in Wednesday. He says he will move back here about March 15, and probably build on his lots near the Willard place in the west end.

Mrs. J. H. Garrison left Friday for Dallas to visit her son, Loyd.

Mrs. T. F. Robeson visited her daughter, Mrs. Reese Hough, at Hereford Saturday to Tuesday evening.

Dr. Ingham moved into his new offices upstairs in the Canyon National Bank building on the first of the week.

Sunny Hill News

There is some flu in this community, but there doesn't seem to be any danger of an epidemic. Only a few of the pupils have missed much school on account of colds.

THE GREAT AMERICAN HOME

A New Portrait of Washington

George Washington, Republican Aristocrat, by Bernard Fay, Boston; Houghton, Mifflin Company, $3.50.

In "George Washington, Republican Aristocrat," Bernard Fay has scored another great success. He has given an unusual and exceptionally clear picture of the "Father of Our Country."

The author has secured new and interesting material, both in America and abroad for his story and has combined it in a book that is interesting not to Americans alone, but to all people to whom the name of Washington is significant.

Washington is pictured as an aristocratic Virginia gentleman. He was a very rich man, having much land, many slaves, a mansion and gold. He was descended from the English gentleman, John Washington. His countrymen recognized his greatness and honored him. Washington filled the needs of the people; therefore he was their leader.

He was a strong man both in body and mind. He inherited a strong physique from his mother. A great part of his life was spent out-of-doors. He learned the fundamental rules of health and cleanliness when he was a lad and kept them religiously all his life.

He was an imposing man but he very seldom expressed his opinion on domestic or governmental affairs. Because of this characteristic he gained and held the confidence of the people of America and became their leader.

Because of the actions of the soldiers in his army, he was often disgusted and tempted to give up his position; but he held on and was rewarded in the end by waging a great war and winning a great victory in the closing conflict of the American Revolutionary war.

Being a great lover of peace and solitude, he declined for seven years to accept the honor of being president of the United States. Because he felt that he owed his country something more he finally accepted the duty of bringing the weak, leaking ship of state into harbor.

At last, having finished his task in a worthy manner, he retired and lived in quiet and peace on his large estate, Mount Vernon.

TEXAS WRITER TO STUDY TREES OF THE STATE

The Chamber of Commerce is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Ethel Osborn Hill, president of Texas Agricultural Writers' of Port Arthur, Texas, requesting information regarding the trees of this section of the state.

Mrs. Hill is preparing manuscript for a book on Texas Trees. She has requested that the Chamber of Commerce here assist her in getting the information necessary for the completion of the book. Quoting from a part of her letter she said, "In preparing a series of brief articles or stories on the historic or noted trees of Texas, to be in book form later, I find that I have no material on trees in your section of the state. Could you supply me with any data or a few pictures? In every locality there are at least two or three trees or a grove, of historic significance, whether those are of great age or planted as memorial trees. I am especially anxious to secure a picture of a big mesquite. I shall appreciate any pictures or information regarding any beautiful or interesting trees in West Texas, whether sent me by you or by anyone who is interested in such."

Can He Get Gold From Sand?

Roy Fitzgerald, left, is shown trying to prove to Judge J. J. Steiger of San Francisco that he can extract gold from sand. When Fitzgerald, arrested on charge of "false pretenses," insisted he could pan gold from sand, court officials let him demonstrate with sand furnished by the state mineralogist. The skeptical officials were puzzled when Fitzgerald's manipulation of the pan netted some tiny gold particles.

Wedding Without Women Is Great Success Saturday

The Womanless Wedding, playing Saturday evening to a packed house at the College auditorium, was a huge success presenting a brand of humor that is seldom seen. The burlesque was sponsored by the Young Women's Christian Association and the cast of characters included college professors, business men and students.

No women took part in the playlet, however, the men were facile imitators of the members of the weaker sex and played the parts of the ladies surprisingly well.

Following is the cast of characters:

Wonder Dog Who Obeys Master's Orders, Unaided by Signs, Puzzles Professors

SEDALIA, Mo.—The uncanny perceptive or intuitive powers of Jim, the "mystery dog of Sedalia," who, unaided by signs, obeys orders spoken or written by his master, seem to be beyond human explanation.

Jim, an English setter bird dog, known variously as "the wizard," "King Solomon" and "the wonder dog," has astounded and mystified skeptical university professors throughout the country with his amazing ability

"Jim," commands Sam H. Van Arsdale, his master, "show me the automobile with license number 190-815." Jim dashes to the right car. On a piece of paper, Mr. Van Arsdale writes: "Show me the Buick." Jim runs to the Buick. "If your clothes were dirty, Jim, where would you wash them?" Jim puts both forepaws on a washing machine. These are just a few of thousands of orders Jim has carried out unerringly.

As a six-weeks-old pup, Jim was brought from Louisiana by Van Arsdale, a Central Missouri hotel operator. An avid hunter, Jim's master follows the bird season from one state to another. In order to get a fine bird dog he bought the offspring of the famous Eugene's Ghost. But the pup was a disappointment. He seemed lazy; he never played and showed no interest in learning to hunt.

Van Arsdale put him in the care of a trainer. When Jim was six months old his master was disgusted. "I'll give him away," he said. But in the next hunt Jim showed interest. He developed rapidly. "Say, I've got a dog." Van Arsdale said, delightedly.

When Jim was seven months old Van Arsdale noticed the first signs of the dog's uncanny perception. If he said, "Let's see if there are any birds in the cornfield," Jim would dash away to the cornfield. If a brush patch were mentioned, away would go Jim toward the patch.

"It wasn't long after that until he always knew what I was talking about," Van Arsdale said.

* * *

HIS master keeps Jim with him constantly while traveling, for company and the entertainment of fellow travelers. Hotels at which Van Arsdale stopped have suspended their paid entertainers because the patrons wanted to watch Jim perform.

You might pardon Jim, English setter shown above with his master, Sam H. Van Arsdale, Central Missouri hotel operator, for putting on the "dog." The setter can obey orders spoken or written by his master, unassisted by any signs from the latter.

For a news reel company, Jim exceeded himself to the extent of picking out things asked for in Italian, French, German and Spanish by attending professors. "I had to know the meaning of each question before it was asked," Van Arsdale said. "Then I would say, 'Do what the gentleman tells you.'"

An odd thing about Jim is that he despises trick stuff. He will not do any of the usual dog tricks, except one of jumping around like a frog which he acquired himself.

"Hundreds of persons have tried to explain Jim," says the dog's master, "and I have agreed with them all, because I don't know the explanation. Some say it's mental telepathy. Maybe it is. It's certain Jim won't budge until I know what he is to do. Some say he moves on a signal from me. That might be, but I don't know what it is."

Chapels

The chapel program Tuesday was in charge of the Girl Scouts, who are under the direction of Miss Goodrich.

To start the program in true Scout fashion the troop was called together. They formed a circle around a camp fire and Mary Ella Lowe came to the head of the circle and told of the organization of Girl Scouts.

Services to be rendered to acquire Merit Badges were demonstrated. Among some of these merit badges are ones for archery, first aid, cooking, home nursing, and stone hunting.

The program was enjoyed by everyone and we were exceedingly glad to have Mary White, national girl scout director for this district, in the audience to witness the program.

The program was in charge of a committee of five. The personnel of this committee was Mrs. Strain, Miss Strain, J. D. Hazlewood, Miss Goodrich and T. H. McDonald.

The program was centered around "Miss February" which was played by Mary Mae Harrison. The opening number was a reading by "Miss February." The assembly then sang "America." A flag drill by the fourth grade. Vincent Lockhart gave a life history of George Washington and his ancestors. In this history time was taken to illustrate how George Washington played war with his playmates, how he lived in the open during his surveying trip through the Ohio Valley, and of his social life at his home at Mount Vernon.

A short one-act play "George and Martha Return" featuring Ogden Stroud, Eula Lee Thompson, Robert Black and Marjorie Tankersly. This play was reproduced from "The Country Gentleman."

The next number was how the different countries of the world were to celebrate the Washington Bi-Centennial Anniversary. The countries and possessions of the United States that were represented were: Hungary, England, Germany, South Africa, Liberia, Porta Rico, Cuba, Alaska, and the United States.

The last number was a salute to the flag by the Girl and Boy Scouts while the assembly sang "The Star Spangled Banner."

This program was well prepared and presented by the students taking part and was attended by a large number of patrons.

Latin Club Is Preparing For 3rd Anniversary

In 1929 the "Senatus Populesque Romans," or the Latin Club of Canyon High School, was organized.

The Latin Club of Canyon High School usually enjoys several entertainments during the year. The Latin Club of 1929 and 1930 gave a banquet, which was on the style of the Old Romans, and a play in chapel entitled "Rex Heluetorium."

The Club of 1931 and '32 is now preparing for an interesting chapel program consisting of a play, "Ira Nympharum," a dance by the nymphs, and two piano solos.

The club programs usually consist of the study of Roman Legends and Gods, playing Latin games and singing Latin songs. The present club is very industrious and progressive.

Each April a tournament is held at Lubbock or Amarillo, or some other neighboring town, which Latin students may enter. Essays written by the students are entered and a medal given to the person whose essay takes first place in the district.

In 1930, Kayte B. Lowe took first place in the district, and in 1931 Katherine Robinson won first place in the district and second place in the state.

There is also an examination on the knowledge of Latin given to the teams of each school. The winning team receives a cup.

The only foreigners interested in entering the United States nowadays are those headed for Hollywood.

We don't need efficiency half so much as we need folks who are willing to do a little more than they are expected to do.

Violin Choir And Band Show Development

The violin choir, a former C. H. S. organization, has re-established itself this year under the direction of Miss Addaline Strain. This choir of six members promises to be the best Canyon High has ever had. Meeting every Wednesday and Friday, the members have been working on several numbers they intend to give in chapel some time before school is out. The members of the choir are Rubye Foster, Rosa Cash, Ruth Slaughter O. M. Solomon, Ben Slaughter, Lorine Bessire and Robbie Foster, piano accompanist.

The band this year has also been doing some good work. It has twenty-three members, several of whom are from the seventh grade and one or two are new members from the high school. They have been working hard and show quite an improvement over last year. Miss Strain stated that the band may continue practicing through the summer if it is necessary. She intends to put on a chapel program before the end of the year.

TO CELEBRATE LONGFELLOW'S ANNIVERSARY

Americans will soon be remembering the birthday of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow who was born February 27, 1807. Most of Longfellow's poems are very serene as was his life.

When thirteen years old he wrote his first poem, "Gazette." At fifteen he entered Bowdoin College. In 1825 when he graduated he was offered a position in the college. He accepted and became head of the department of modern languages. He sailed for Europe before he took the position and returned to Bowdoin prepared for the new task. Later he spent seventeen years in Harvard University as professor of modern languages.

Among Longfellow's many poems is "The Children's Hour," which appeals to both young and old.

Longfellow's character and life have both been compared to a poem—well balanced, beautiful, strong with nothing to hide or excuse. Lowell said of him, "His choicest verse is harsher tone than he." He is often known as America's first scholar, and his name stands among the names of great Americans.

WHERE OUR MONEY GOES

Before a Senatorial Committee, a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan and Company testified that they had sold foreign securities in this country since the World War to the amount of $1,805,000,00.

A partner in Kuhn, Loeb and Company said his firm had sold $1,136,000,000, and the president of the National City Bank testified to selling $1,071,000,000 in foreign securities.

That makes a total of four billions and twelve millions of dollars of good American money that have gone to foreign countries in recent years from the pockets of individual citizens of this country!

It was testified, that a comparatively small amount of this huge total is in the hands of the bankers—it has been passed on to the dear public, through middlemen, who also made nice profits as did the fiscal agents. How much more, many other International bankers have sold, is problematical.

All of these securities are away below their original cost in value, and some hundreds of millions worth of them do not even pay interest on the sorry investments.

We began monkeying with Europe in opposition to the long established policy of our country, and the American Eagle has got his tail in a crack—perhaps for a long time.

Candidates sow the wind and expect to reap votes.

NEWS 200 YEARS AGO

In connection with the 200th anniversary of the Maryland Gazette, some early copies of that newspaper were exhibited.

The news and advertisements of early days were naturally quite different from what it found in current newspapers, as they reflected the customs and beliefs of their time.

One of the stories from Vienna told of the burning of several persons convicted of witchcraft, among them a "mid-wife who baptized 2,000 children in the name of the devil." A local item related the experience of a negro slave who struck a white man in an argument over a dog fight. The negro was sentenced to have one of his ears cut off "pursuant to the law in such cases."

Among the advertisements was one announcing the arrival of a cargo of "about 200 choice slaves, which will be exposed for sale on Thursday, the 22nd of this instant."

In this issue of October 21, 1762, the Maryland Gazette published the news of the birth of a son to the British king and queen, which had occurred on August 12. The story bore the headlines: "Great Joy to the Nation! A Prince of Wales is Born. God Save the King." This was the dissolute and notorious character who afterwards became George IV.

The Maryland Gazette was frequently suspended for various periods, but is credited by the Librarian of Congress with being "the dean of present-day American newspapers."

Maybe the members of the younger generation don't want to catch up with happiness because they would then have no more fun in pursuing it.

We are now on the edge of a new renaissance of the spirit.—Dr. Edward Howard Griggs, former university professor at Stanford.

Canyon Eagles Go To Second Round in Tilt

The Eagles encountered no difficulty in defeating the Dumas quintet, 39-13. The entire Eagle squad of 12 men participated in this game, the second string playing more than half the time. The score at the half was 20-4, and during the second period the second string scored 19 points to the opponents' 9.

On Friday the Eagles met the powerful Dalhart Wolves, the title defenders. The Wolves overwhelmed the Eagles in the first half, the score at the end of that period being 21-8. But during the last half the Eagles pulled out of it and played their best game of the season, scoring 10 points to Dalhart's 8. The one-sided score could not be overcome, however, and the game ended, 19-29. The freak shots of a tall, bronzed Wolf, No. 11, won the day for Dalhart. The Eagle captain, Pearson, merited his honorable mention on the Tournament All-Stars in this game.

In the next round the Amarillo Sandies put Dalhart out of the race easily, 31-18. The Sandstorm then swept the Happy Jacks in a hard won semi-final game by the score of 31-24.

The Quitaque Panthers advanced to meet Amarillo in the finals by defeating the Tourney favorites, the Borger Bulldogs, in the best game of the contest, by the tight score of 25-22. The score of this game was tied at the end of each period, except the last.

Amarillo had very little trouble eliminating the tired Panthers by the lop-sided score of 35-7.

Amarillo will play Ropesville tonight and Friday in Amarillo for the bi-championship. This is the first time in four seasons that the bi-district game has been played in District One.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Thompson Give Picture to C.H.S.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Thompson presented Canyon High School with a portait of George Washington on February 22 in commemoration of the two hundreth anniversary of his birth.

This master print of the portrait of George Washington is done from the original painting which hangs in the Walker Art Galleries in Minneapolis.

It was painted by Gilbert Stuart who knew George Washington intimately. The original is considered one of the finest examples of portait are produced in America.

This picture is hanging in the main hall of Canyon High School, and the students wish to take this opportunity to extend their hearty thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Thompson.

Only 56 days left of this school year. The senior play interscholastics, junior-senior banquet, basketball games, will soon be memories. While these 56 days go fast and furious, let's make every day bigger and better than the one before it!

To many of us these 56 days are all we have left of our high school career. Everyone of us will find things quite different after high school whether we are in college or working. Every item presented us in our course will in some way be valuable. Within 56 more days every senior should have made definite plans for the immediate future. To the underclassmen, the remaining 56 days mean a period between their present situation and desired advancement. Renewed vigor and plans for next year's work fill their minds.

Whatever our classification the remaining 56 days should have a definite meaning and use for us

Washington's Life Is Main Theme of Assembly Saturday

The first public program commemorating the Bi-centennial of George Washington was given in assembly Saturday by children of the elementary school of the West Texas State Teachers College.

Under the direction of Miss Ada V. Clark and Miss Jean Moore, the life of George Washington was told in story, song and pantomime. The program was interestingly presented by members of the girls' chorus and glee club who sang songs commemorating outstanding events in the life of Washington, while students of the training school, dressed in colonial costumes, pantomimed the themes of the songs. The songs sung were: "First in the Hearts of His Countrymen," "The Tale of the Cherry Tree," "Dance-Minuet," "Spirit of '76," "Valley Forge," "Your Flag and Mine," "Salute the Flag," "Pledge" and "Mount Vernon Bells." After this the "Star Spangled Banner" was sung by the assembly.

The second program will be given in assembly, Tuesday, Feb. 23, with Otis Trulove of Amarillo as the speaker.

Preparedness is that shown by the boy who took four years tn a school of journalsm and then opened up a news-stand.

Le Mirage for '31 Is Awarded All-American Rating

Word has just been received that All-American rating, the highest honor awarded annuals, has been awarded the 1931 Le Mirage, edited by Margaret Sheers with Wallace O'Keefe as business manager. This is the first time that this honor has been received by a W. T. annual. First class honor rating was awarded the 1930 Le Mirage edited by Minerva Bookout, and second class honor rating was awarded the 1929 Le Mirage, edited by Ruth Strain.

If an annual is absolutely correct, it receives 1,000 points in the judges' rating. The 1931 annual received 910 points, which placed it in the All-American honor group. The rating was done by the National Scholastic Press Association, of which Le Mirage is a member. A certificate of the award is on display in the Publications Office.

George Visits In Three Counties in Interest of College

Since making my last report I have traveled about a thousand miles, closely canvassed Armstrong and Donley counties, made a trip into New Mexico and one into Floyd and Hale counties. I have added one hundred and fifteen to the list of names who tell me that they will be here this summer. This brings the total to four hundred and five and I have canvassed only Potter, Carson, Gray, Swisher, Armstrong and Donley. This is less than one fourth of our territory, which means that if this work is carried on till June there will be a minimum of 1600 here this summer. This includes none of the students who are here in school now and only three high school seniors who will graduate this spring. If we draw from these two sources as we should, you can easily estimate a much larger attendance for this summer than ever before.

Lee Johnson, the College Bookstore manager, wants reliable information, the Canyon Chamber of Commerce, the College, and the Ex-student Association have spent two years laying the foundation for this work hence definite information is absolutely essential and I am collecting and publishing it. By reading the Prairie and the Canyon News one can see just how many are planning to be here this summer from each county.

Mr. Cash reports that there are between forty and fifty vacant houses in Canyon. I promised him that we would fill them this summer. I know that we can, and believe that we shall. I have the names of twenty-five families, and can raise it to one hundred, who want places for the summer. Donley County sent 13 pupils to our summer school of 1930, 27 in 1931, and 57 teachers tell me that they will be here this summer. This is typical of results from each county.

Several have asked me what they can do to help the cause. Hence this is what I advise: First join the Canyon Chamber of Commerce. It needs whatever you can contribute in the way of cash and your moral support is a big factor just now. For me to accept any kind of a commission would defeat the very thing for which I have been working for two years. Make all donations to the Chamber of Commerce and I will help direct your personal services. We need several hundred letters written by business firms. I have more calls to address high schools than I can possibly fill. Students now in College are asking for a W. T. day in their home town high school. This is very effective work and should be encouraged as much as possible. There are forty counties in Texas, five in Oklahoma, and five in New Mexico that should be closely canvassed. This program fully carried out for two more years will double our attendance. Phone in your name to the Chamber of commerce and report what you can do for this cause.

Methodist Student Federation Feast Is Well Attended

Members of the Methodist Student Federation held their annual banquet last Friday night, February 19th at six o'clock. There was approximately one hundred and ten students, guests and teachers in attendance for the affair, and Miss Mary Jo Gates, President of the Federation, made a very efficient and delightful toastmistress.

The banquet was carried out on the plan of a voyage on a ship. The programs were small ships and even the waitresses were dressed in sailor togs.

Everyone had an enjoyable evening, and the stunts were really delightful. The Freshmen girls had a stunt depicting the time when Columbus discovered America. The Leaguers had a Boston Tea Party, the Choir played a baseball game, but best of all the Deck Stewards, Lothar Tampke, Coy Palmer, Pohnnie Hood, and Dayton Hanson, sang a new version of the little song, entitled "My Bonnie Lies Over The Ocean."

The program or passport was as follows: Mary Joe Gates, captain.
Songs and Yells.
Travelers Cheques.
Embarkment—Jensine Nelson.
At Sea—Edwin Boedeker.
Chorus—Deck Stewards.
Set of the Sails—Jean Day.
Shipmates—Virgil Gore.
Mail—Wireless Messages.
What Port?—Rev. E. Gaston Foote.
Benediction.

Prospective husbands may not be so stable financially this year, so maybe it ought to be called Look-Before-You-Leap Year.

A drawing from the painting of Washington crossing the Delaware

Every great character has at some time staked all on a slender chance. Of all the great hazards risked by great Americans perhaps none is more dramatic than the one portrayed in the picture above.

Resolution and grim realization of the cause at stake are mingled on Washington's face as he crosses the ice-broken Delaware with 2300 men to crush the Hessians at Trenton, and to pit their feeble strength against the forces of Cornwallis for the possession of New Jersey.

The cause of the entire rebel army is at stake; the cause of the revolution is at stake; the cause of a new nation is at stake. The great general here throws them all in the balance against a slender chance. He knows not the meaning of discouragement.

Ten Theses Have Been Presented in Graduate Seminar

During this school term seven thesis problems have been presented to and accepted by the seminar of W. T. S. T. C., according to an announcement from the Department of Education. Each graduate student was assigned to a member of the local seminar for personal supervision. The following students presented their problems in the fall quarter:

Miss Jonny Rowan, "The History of W. T. S. T. C." She is under the personal supervision of Dr. Harris M. Cook.

Lee Gilmore, "Desirable Certificate Revision for Texas." Dr. Cook is supervising his work.

The seminar has accepted the following problems during the present quarter:

Mrs. Armine P. Horton, "A Survey of Music Problems in Schools of Certain Selected Cities of South West Texas." She has been assigned to Dr. Jarrett.

James Gray, "The Use of Local Materials in Teaching History." Dr. Jarrett is also supervising his work.

Newton Crain, "Denominational Schools in the Educational Development of the Panhandle." Dr. Harris M. Cook is his supervisor.

Clinton De Armand, "Classification and Methods of Obtaining Local Aquatic Material for the Teaching of Biology." Dr. Cook is Mr. De Armand's personal supervisor.

Mrs. Jessie Wallrabenstein, "A Method of Organizing Material Designed to Teach Farm Women Art Appreciation."

Only one thesis is submitted at each meeting of the Seminar, and approximately one hour is consumed in discussing the problem presented for approval. Dean R. P. Jarrett, head of the Education Department and major professor for all graduate students, is invited to all formal meetings of the seminar. Dr. Albert Barnett of the Education department and any other interested persons are also invited to attend.

NO CAUSE FOR PRIDE

The National Board of Fire Underwriters estimates that fire loss during 1931 totaled $452,017,026, as compared with $462,612,762 in 1930.

This is a saving of more than $11,000,000 over the previous year, and it is a welcome one. But there is no cause as yet for a feeling of pride. We need not swell our chests and say that the war against fire is coming to an end. There is something sadly wrong with the habits of a people when carelessness with fire can cause the destruction of property worth almost half a billion—to say nothing of the indirect loss, which totals as much or more in a single year. More impertant than the monetary loss is the distruction of thousands of lives.

We have become used to establishing records in many lines, and we have done so with fire. No other civilized nation even approaches us in the amount of destruction. We stand alone, surrounded by barren and charred wastes—the product of our carelessness and ignorance. And we have no excuse to offer.

If we can really reduce fire waste, we shall have done something of permanent benefit. If we can adopt habits of mind that make for carelessness, and take the small trouble necessary to learn the lessons of fire prevention, we shall have benefited ourselves and our neighbors. There is nothing difficult about preventing fire—and that fact makes such continued waste even more tragic.

The man who is ashamed of his home town can't boast of his ability in picking a place to live.

When Uncle Andy Mellon puts on that higher income tax, don't kick at it. Console yourself with the thought that a lot of fellows wish they had a job so they could be paying one.

Whatever became of the old-time man who used a rubber cigar-holder that looked like a nipple off of a baby's milk bottle?

You can scarcely flatter a man more than asking him for his advice. You can follow your own inclination about using it.

Love may be blind but it frequently has good business judgement when bank rolls are involved

School Trustees Urge That Taxes Be Paid At Once

The School Board of the Canyon Independent School District recently voted to allow the payment of 1931 taxes up to and including March first without the assessment of the usual 10 per cent penalty; the board so acted in an effort to obtain necessary operating funds through increased collections, and, at the same time, to extend an opportunity of saving to those who have yet been unable to pay 1931 taxes; this does not apply to 1930 taxes, same having gone delinquent and penalty accrued on Jan. 31.

This Board is deeply grateful for the extreme degree of co-operation we have had from the patrons and taxpayers during the past two depressing years; we thank those who have paid promptly, and, at the same time, have helped in the collection of other taxes, and we appreciate to the fullest the efforts of others, even though they have not yet been able to pay up to date. We will appreciate your continued effort, and hope you will be able to avail yourselves of this saving.

Without such co-operation we would not have been able to operate our school on a cash basis, as we have during the past two years; a continuation of such assistance will enable us to pay as we go during the 1932-33 session; our budget as adopted for the coming term entails a saving of some $8,000.00, all of which we would like to be able to pass to the taxpayers. This cannot be done, however, since a greater per cent of 1932 tax must be apportioned to the sinking fund than for the last three years. In changing this apportionment, we will still be enabled to effect a five per cent reduction from 1931 valuations. When you render your property, if you will bear this in mind and render accordingly, you will give us value for necessary revenue to meet current expenses, bonds and interest.

Thanking every patron for continued assistance and cooperation, we are, Sincerely,

School Board, Canyon Ind. School District,
By D. F. Sanders, Chm.

Amarillo Sandies

In each of the first games the winners showed power and great defensive ability to run off with their tilts by wide margins.

Games are Spectacular

The Golden Sandies of Amarillo staged the most spectacular drive of the afternoon games, defeating Dimmitt, 38 to 10. The golden clad lads held their opponents powerless during the first half, leading 18 to 3 at the intermission, and let up only slightly during the closing periods.

The Canyon Eagles ran almost as close a race for honors, leading the Sandies by one point, but allowing their opponents a three-point margin over Dimmitt's score. The Eagles defeated Dumas 39 to 13, leading 22 to 4 at the half.

And just as close for the lead in the margin of victory came Gruver, and only slightly behind this quintet was Pampa. Gruver advanced over Canadian, 37 to 10, and the Harvesters defeated Goodnight, 35 to 13.

Happy and Quitaque Advance

In the play Saturday, the Happy Jacks played brilliantly to defeat a fighting Farwell team, 24 to 17. Lead by a smooth-working center, Barnard, the Jacks came from behind to nose under the wire, the winner. Barnard's shooting and ball handling was as skillful an exhibition as has been seen in Buffalo Gym in many a day. He was aided in his play by R. Morgan, a forward, and the defensive work of Locket and Springer, as guards.

Farwell, the loser, was not without her stars. McElroy, forward, was a hustling piece of furniture who unfortunately left the game on personal fouls in the third quarter. Danner, guard, was also a great performer for Farwell.

Led by Graham, 194-pound forward, the Quitaque team showed smooth and successful floor work to gain their victory over the Owls of Hedley. Graham's speed was amazing for his size, and his ability to score was exceeded only by his fighting spirit. Morris, center, was Quitaque's other half in the starring department. This pair of hot shots scored 30 points between them.

Dalhart Holds Spotlight

The Dalhart Wolves, defending champions, held the interest in the afternoon as they made their first appearance, defeating the Canyon Eagles, 29 to 19. The Amarillo Golden Sandies again met with no great resistance as they marched into the quarter-finals over Stratford, winning 26 to 18. Gruver established themselves as a dark horse, coming into the meet unrecognized as a possible winner, the quintet surprised fans with its power and took its place among the favorites. Gruver erased Panhandle's Panthers 34 to 19, in their second round tilt.

The Hedley Owls were the first to enter the quarter-finals, by defeating the Perryton Rangers, 25 to 21. Farwell advanced over Vega, and Quitaque defeated Follett, 37 to 5.

The Borger-Quitaque game Saturday afternoon was by far the hardest fought and closest tussle of the entire meet. At the first quarter the Bulldogs led, 7 to 5; at the half the score was tied, 11 to 11, and at the end of the third quarter the count was still knotted 18 to to 18.

The Amarillo Sandies' next foe in the competition for state honors will be with Ropesville, winner of the District Two meet at Lubbock.

Harters' Chickens Attract Attention As Far as Sweden

R. E. Harter, whose high pedigreed Austrolorps have been attracting nation-wide attention with their production records in the Texas National Egg Laying Contest at College Station, Texas, received a letter from Stockholm, Sweden, Wednesday morning wanting a quotation of prices on eggs from his Australorps.

Mr. Harter several days ago, recived a report on his hens in the contest regarding the January production. A part of the report read as follows:

"The R. E. Harter's Australorps Hen No. 5-5 has now produced 113 eggs to lead the field by eggs. For the first four months of the contest 29 hens have produced as many as 100 eggs for an average of 25 eggs per hen, per month.

"For the second consecutive month, R. E. Harter's Australorp pen No. 6 took high pen honors with 262 eggs and 265 points. This comes within one egg of tying the January record for this contest. The English Leghorns were second high pen and they were closely followed by Harter's other Austrolorp pen in third place.

"R. E. Harter's Australorp Hen No. 6-25 produced 30 eggs which earned 32.80 points to take high individual honors. Again! The same two Australorps turned in perfect scores this month the same as last month. Hen No. 5-5 has laid on 78 consecutive days and Hen No. 5-12 has laid on 62 consecutive days. This is not good, but PERFECT winter production. Never in the history of this contest has such a record as this for consecutive production during the winter months been approached."

Rain and Snow on Friday Night Adds .42 Inches Moisture

The wheat crop for this year received another big boost Friday night when snow and rain added .42 of an inch to the good winter moisture. The snow stayed on the ground but for only a short while, but will do the growing wheat a great amount of good.

Farmers state that never in the history of the country was the spring opening more favorably for a splendid wheat yield. The crop is growing nicely, and everything has been in favor of the kind of development which guarantees a good yield.

Respect for Flag Explained Tuesday at Rotary Club

Rotarians entertained their sons Tuesday at the annual Father and Son luncheon of the Canyon Rotary Club. Forty-seven were in attendance, including two visiting Rotarians, W. W. Kelly and O. W. Wright, both of Amarillo.

The program was in charge of the Club Service Committee, Oscar Gano, chairman. Captain Hubert O. Price talked on the proper display of the American flag, the meaning of the emblem, and the duties of the citizens toward the flag. "The flag represents a living country, and therefore, itself is a living thing," stated the speaker.

As a member of the American Legion, Captain Price called upon the Rotary club to assist the ex-service men in furthering the cause of patriotism and good will in the country.

THE MAN—NOT HIS CAR

According to a brief article in The Safe Driver, a publication of the National Safety Council, about 90 per cent of all motor vehicle acidents can be charged to three things: Bad judgement, carelessness and stupidity. In a recent study of over a million motor accidents, it was found that the entire share of fatal accidents attributable to defects in the car amounted to only abcut 11 per cent while for non-fatal accidents the car was defective in but 5 per cent of the cases.

In other words, 9 acidents out of 10 are the fault of the man who drives the car, and not the car itself. As Dr. Miller McClintock, of Harvard, has phrased it, the remedy is to convince man that he must live up to his car. When he reaches as high a degree of perfection in his driving as the modern automobile represents, deaths on streets and highways will be due for a 90 per cent drop.

The modern highway is often congested. Traffic moves fast. There is no time for absent-mindedness, for a single instant of distraction from the job at hand. Everyone who drives an automobile should keep in the front of his mind the trinity of destruction: Bad judgement, carelessness, stupidity.
